For not come to it, much as he would like to example, the Minnesota press is discussing with great heat the action taken by the majority of the State's delegation in The only Minnesotan who stood by the bill tor La Follette or William R. He charged that two or three of them had assured the President and Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means Committee that they would vote for the bill if their votes were needed. The charge has created a furore and may result in an ugly squabble among the Republicans of the State. From information received here it appears that the people of Minnesofa were bitterly opposed to the tariff bill in the form in which it passed and they are still disgruntled over the measure.

Mr. Tawney is denounced by some and commended by others, and the controversy that has been aroused in this connection is expected to reach a crisis The President is scheduled for a five hour stop at Winona, the home of Reprentative Tawney, and if popular report is to be believed he may deliver a speech there eulogizing Tawney for his vote there eulogizing Tawney for his vote for the tariff bill. The other Republicans from the State do not see how the President can praise Tawney without disparaging them, and they are getting ready to reply to him in the event that he criticises them even by inference.

In speeches delivered since Congress adjourned Senator La Follette of Wisconsin has gone after the new tariff law hammer and tongs. There is reason to believe that the President will touch lightly on the tariff in his speeches in Wisconsin. Originally he was scheduled to make a stop at Madison in that State. This is the home town of La Follette. The itinerary was changed, however. wisconsin. Originally he was scheduled to make a stop at Madison in that State. This is the home town of La Follette. The itinerary was changed, however, and the President will go instead to Milwaukee during the State fair week. A discussion of the tariff at Madison might have stirred up a lot of excitement.

After his visits in Wisconsin and Minnesota the President will speed on to Iowa. He will make a speech at Des Moines, where Senator Cummins holds forth. Just how the President can praise the tariff law at Des Moines without criticising Senators Cummins and Polliver, the most persistent of the Interior Department. Acting Secretary Pierce is carefully studying the situation and has had several conferences with Commissioner Valentine of the Indian office.

"I shall be very loath to accept 35 cents," Mr. Pierce said. "When a person has something worth $1 he hates to take less than 50 cents for it. The Department has not definitely decided what to do. We have had several conferences and will have others before we have anything to give out."

The Indian lands are leased for a royalty on the amount of oil produced. Mr. Pierce cising Senators Cummins and Polliver, the most peraistent opponents of the preasure when it was up in the Senate, measure when it was up in the Senate, is not easy to see.

Just before the President left Washington he had as callers Representative Tawney of Minnesota and others whose votes for the tariff bill put them "in ball" with the folks at home. The announcement went out that the President would defend Mr. Tawney's vote for the tariff at Mr. Tawney's home town, and the intimation was given that similar speeches would be made in other districts for the benefit of sitting members. Since then the President has been advised that it mighs be as well to approve the tar'ff law in the inter-mountain region and on the migh- be as well to approve the tar'fl law in the inter-mountain region and on the coast, but that it would be the part of wisdom to say as little about it as possible in the midd-e West and horthwest.

It is the helie here that Mr. Taft will decide to discuss future instead of nast existation in most of the speeches that he will deliver in the West during his trip.

The other device is the "intermittent contact rail", which has been placed in operation on the Santa Fé in southern California.

tor La Follette or William R. Hearst, who were invited to speak.

An invitation has been sent to Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont of New York to attend the conference. Mrs. Belmont's late husband was an advocate of the income tax. An effort is also being made to enlist the assistance of Dr. M. P. Conway of Auburn, the Democratic leader of Cayuga county, who is a close friend of Charles F. Murphy and the old time foe of Public Service Commissioner T. M. Peborne, one of the prime movers in the "safe and sane" conference called to meet in Saratoga.

The promoters of the Albany conference aim to make the movement non-partisan, as this is believed to be the only way for the rank and file to make its influence felt. They favor the formation of an income tax league and the pledging of all candidates for the Legislature this fall to vote for the ratification of the proposed income tax amendment.

FULL VALUE FOR INDIANS OIL. when President Taft goes into Minnesota. Interior Department Stirred Up by Standard Cut in Oklahoma Prices.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.-The Interior Department and the Standard Oil Company will probably become involved in a serious controversy as a result of the recent action of the company in reducing the price of crude petroleum in Oklahoma from 41 to 35 cents a barrel. Since the passage of the tariff act the oil companies doing business in Oklahoma have reduced their prices. The Government is interested in the price of oil in the Indian Territory because thousands of acres of the oil lands are owned by the Indians, who are the wards of the Interior Depart

The Indian lands are leased for a royalty on the amount of oil produced. Mr. Pierce believes that this royalty should be based on a price of at least $1 per barrel. The three pipe lines leading out of the Oklahoma fields are controlled, it is said, by the Standard and the oil producers in the Territory are powerless to fight.

Must Settle the Teamsters' Fuss This Week or I'nseat Some Delegates.

The committee appointed by the Central Federated Union to reconcile the differences between the two factions of union teamsters in this city will have a meeting this week to make a final attemp t to settle the trouble. One of the factions is the locals which seceded from the International Brotherhood of Tean sters after the last unsuccessful strikes of the truck drivers in Manhattan and Brooklyn. The other remained in the brotherhoo 1.

These locals with others which broke away have formed an independent national body, which according to Delegate Dennela has a membership of 7,000 and is the annual compilation of block signal statistics.

The board was organized to test all appliances for signalling and fof the structure of trains.

The situation has been further complicated by the new independent body becoming incorporated. No amalgamation can take place until it scertificate of incorporation is cancelled. A peculiar feature of the fight is that the locals which are declared irregular were the "regular" unions several years ago, while some of the locals are now regarded as the regular unions were then declared irregular.

ROBBED WHILE BEING SHAVED. Mehr Closed His Eyes and His Box of $1.000 Worth of Jewelry Disappeared. When Elias Mehr, a travelling salesman of 179 Graham avenue, Williamsburg, went into a barber shop at 137 Meserole street yesterday he placed a box containing nearly $1,000 worth of jewelry where he thought he could see it in a mirror while being shaved. He closed his eyes and somebody who evidently knew what the box contained and had probably followed Mehr took it and disappeared. When he opened his eyes and saw that the box was gone he became frantic. A boy in the shop informed him that he had seen a man leaving the place with a box and enter leaving the place with a box and enter a restaurant in the neighborhood.

Mehr soon found a policeman who went to the restaurant with him. There the barber's boy pointed out a young man who said he was Jacob Edelman of 488 East 174th street, Manhattan. A man and girl in the place said Edelman had gone into a rear room for a few minutes after entering. A search of the room disclosed several price tags on the floor which Mehr said were on some of his jewelry. A piece of wrapping paper in the same room was declared by the salesman to have been wrapped around the jewelry box. There was no trace of the box or jewelry.

Edelman was taken to the Stagg street police station, where although he denied all knowledge of Mehr's property a charge of grand larceny was made against him. He was arraigned in the Manhattan avenue police court and held in $500 bail pending further investigation.
